Statement from Woodside CEO Peter Coleman

I regret that I made some remarks in a media interview that have been interpreted as condoning what has occurred in Myanmar. This is not the case.

To clarify: Woodside is closely monitoring developments in Myanmar and the evolving situation, including any guidance from the Australian Government.

Woodside is a responsible and constructive foreign investor in Myanmar.

Our focus remains on the safety and well-being of our people.

Woodside has joined a range of other businesses in signing up to the Statement by Concerned Businesses Operating in Myanmar.

We remain committed to our employees and to the people of Myanmar.
